

AUSTRALIA'S FENCING CONTRACTOR OF CHOICE

FenceWright has built a strong reputation as Australia's leading fencing supply and installation solutions provider - specialising in the provision of expert design, advice, service and on-time delivery. With proven capability across Australia from major cities through to some of the country's most remote locations, the FenceWright team will deliver a premium quality product as specified, on time and on budget.

ABOUT

Established in 2010 with an initial focus on security fencing in the mining industry, FenceWright has now grown to provide a broad range of products and services across mining, oil and gas, government, commercial and industrial sectors. Clients benefit from FenceWright's experience across Australia's harsh climates and variety of landscapes with recommendations for value-added, industry-specific solutions, customised for each project.

FenceWright's continued success is testament to the company's unparalleled attention to quality and the application of a customer-focused approach. FenceWright is committed to understanding client project objectives and providing strong outcomes through strategic advice, effective solutions and creating value at each stage of the construction process.

FenceWright is 100 per cent Aboriginal-owned by Karlka Developments Pty Ltd; the commercial arm of the Karlka Nyiyaparli Aboriginal Corporation, representing the Nyiyaparli people of the Eastern Pilbara in the State of Western Australia.

"FenceWright worked with our project requirements including revising the start date and minor last-minute scope changes and worked autonomously up to completion, upon which a quality product was delivered." - Lendlease

THE FENCEWRIGHT DIFFERENCE

Solution focused

The FenceWright team has a proven capacity to provide effective and appropriate solutions for each security fencing project. Whether a project is large or small, local or remote, the FenceWright team will deliver practical, quality outcomes while ensuring a cost effective, timely result.

Seamless coordination

FenceWright places enormous importance on regular client communication to professionally and proactively manage projects. From initial enquiry through to project completion and sign-off, FenceWright will be contactable and will answer all your queries.

Collaborative team

FenceWright's people and their ability to collaborate with both clients and colleagues is unrivalled in the industry. To ensure client expectations are fulfilled and project requirements are addressed with a wealth of industry experience, FenceWright's dedicated team adopts a can-do attitude, and enjoys the challenge of finding workable solutions for their clients.

"FenceWright has done a great job delivering our project and has overcome many hurdles in our tight schedule across four states. Their communication and project management skills kept us on track for the quality outcome we were looking for. Thanks again to the team and we look forward to working with them again in the future." – Broadcast Australia
